

FORGETTING OWN LOSSES, MRS. OELRICHS OFFERS AID

Arranges Benefit to Take Place at Hippodrome Saturday Afternoon and Evening.

HOLDS SALE OF SEATS.

Mrs. Oelrichs and Her Sister, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Lose Heavily.

Although Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, before her marriage, Theresa Fair, has lost the bulk of the great fortune left her by her father, in the San Francisco earthquake, she has forgotten her own misfortunes in her concern for the homeless poor of her native city. With characteristic energy, this young American woman has organized a monster benefit to be held at the Hippodrome Saturday afternoon and evening.

Thompson & Dundy have turned over to Mrs. Oelrichs their great playhouse for the two performances. The receipts will be donated to a fund for the relief of the poor of San Francisco who have lost their little all in the great calamity.

Mrs. Oelrichs has taken personal charge of the sale of box seats and will conduct the sale at her home, No. 1 East Fifty-seventh street. The boxes are held at $25 for each performance. It is estimated that the benefit will net close to $25,000.

The patronesses, besides Mrs. Oelrichs, are Mrs. Ogden Mills, Mrs. Charles P. Alexander, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. Mary Cassatt, Mrs. Henry Clay, Mrs. Charles Russell Duval, Mrs. George Gould, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, Mrs. Charles A. Childs, Mrs. Harry Lehr, Mrs. Francis Carroll, Mrs. James W. Gerard, Mrs. James Speyer and Mrs. Stanford White.

Mrs. Oelrichs through the kindness of Laurence Mackay got into communication today with her San Francisco agent, Thomas Mages, lawyer of No. 6 Montgomery street.

"Mr. Mages alone knows the extent of my losses," said Mrs. Oelrichs. "Fortunately I some time ago disposed of my property in the residence section of the city, and outside of the Crossway and Plaza buildings, my holdings are comparatively light. Both buildings are insured against fire."

Mrs. Oelrichs's home, No. 1 East Fifty-seventh street, was visited today and yesterday by a cavalcade of carriages and automobiles bearing consoling friends.

"It is my first duty," said Mrs. Oelrichs, "to care for those who have lost their own homes and such instructions have been sent to my San Francisco representative, Mr. Mages."

Mrs. Oelrichs said that her sister's losses would be much greater than her own. The Fair estate originally included the Hotel Fairmont, the Hotel Fairmount Hotel and many blocks of buildings in the residential portion of the city.

Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., is at her country residence in Great Neck, L. I. She is reported to have owned four hundred houses in Mission street, all of which were destroyed.

FEARS CHILDREN ARE LOST IN EARTHQUAKE

Millionaire Shoe Merchant Unable to Get News About Them and Will Start Home at Once.

J. L. Rosenthal, a San Francisco millionaire and the largest retail shoe dealer on the Pacific coast, is at the Hotel Majestic here with his wife. Both are distressed over the possible fate of their two young children, who were left in San Francisco in the care of relatives.

"I have been unable to get a word about my children," said Mr. Rosenthal. "I have wired repeatedly and even Mr. Jayne, the Western Union superintendent at San Francisco who is here in New York, tried to get some word regarding my children's safety for me, but he has been unsuccessful. I am going to start home to-day."

"I have a million dollars worth of property in San Francisco, but I haven't the slightest idea of what my material loss has been. I haven't given it a thought. I am worried over the children, my eleven-year-old boy and his sister, a year younger. I have two big shoe stores, one of them in Market street. I suppose that either they collapsed or burned down."

"It will represent a loss of $200,000. This is a terrible blow to 'Frisco, and the great loss of life is the most deplorable feature. The city is so rich that it will quickly recover its material prosperity."

With Mr. and Mrs. Rosenthal at the Majestic are Mrs. J. Nathan and her daughter, Miss Mildred Nathan, of San Jose. Mrs. Nathan has extensive property interests in San Jose and San Francisco. Some of her San Francisco property is in the destroyed district, and among the reported dead to-day was the name of a Dr. Stinson, one of her tenants.

Superintendent Jayne wired for news from San Jose for her, but when word came back that 200 persons were reported killed there the news was withheld from her. She and her daughter will start for California to-day.

THEY WORSHIP TEETH.

Lecturer Tells of Hindu Veneration for Dental Beauty.

An American traveler recently delivered a lecture before a distinguished audience at the home of a wealthy New Yorker. On the table before him stood one lone object.

Said the traveler: "While I was in India three Royal Commissioners were sent there by the King of Siam to negotiate for the purchase of a certain tooth. They failed in their mission, however, their offer of the surprising sum of $50,000 for the much-coveted tooth being declined."

"We Americans certainly learn a lesson from the Hindu worship of teeth—the lesson of respect for one of the most important parts of our bodies. 'And here,' concluded the lecturer, holding up a blue enameled box of tooth powder, 'is the tooth powder, the measuring tube, is a dentifrice that is used by people of refinement in every part of the world where the use of a toothbrush is known. It bears the label of Dr. I. W. Lyon's Perfect Tooth Powder, and is the shrine at which thousands upon thousands to-day express respect for their teeth.'"

CONRIED COMPANY REPORT ALL SAFE

Director Gets Message Saying 263 Members Escaped Death in Disaster.

Herr Heinrich Conried, director of the Metropolitan Opera Company, was still greatly exercised to-day over the whereabouts of the 263 members of his company that opened in the Grand Opera House at San Francisco Monday night.

It was afternoon when a telegram from Nathan Franko came, saying all were safe.

Today's papers told him that all of the singers and all the chorus are alive, yet many personal telegrams from them. He knows that all the scenery taken on the tour—four carloads of it—has been destroyed and that all the company were driven from their hotels in the devastated city.

If the company can be brought back to New York at once Herr Conried will give a season of one week at the Metropolitan, starting on next Monday. He has announced to-day, but in the utter demoralized conditions prevailing on the coast there is little probability of a start for New York being made for several days yet.

The advance sale for the fourteen performances that were yet to be given in San Francisco amounted to $10,000. All this is lost, in addition to the burned scenery and the very great cost of carrying such a huge company and so many stage properties clear across the continent. Friends and relatives of singers still besieged Herr Conried's offices to-day, waiting for definite news.

INDICATIONS THAT CHICAGO MAY SUFFER.

CHICAGO, April 19.—There are slight indications that Chicago may experience an earthquake within a few years, according to Prof. J. Paul Goode, of the University of Chicago geology faculty. The presence of certain spots of rock in the earth inside of near the city limits, he believes, is an indication of a condition that might result in the dislodging of a portion of the city.

"There is no absolute geological proof that Chicago may have an earthquake in the next few years," Prof. Goode declared. "One can detect slight symptoms, however. Certain formations of certain kinds of rock underneath Chicago might be taken as an indication of an earthquake as simple as the breaking of a timber."

ASSOCIATED PRESS MEN STICK TO POSTS

CHICAGO, April 19.—Melville E. Stone, General Manager of the Associated Press, said today: "Delay in report from San Francisco is caused by interruption of wires. The Associated Press forces, while naturally anxious, is still on duty awaiting relief from Los Angeles and Portland."

The Associated Press force at San Francisco, which has done such remarkable work, includes Paul Cowles, Superintendent, R. S. Johnson, E. E. Curtis, J. M. Carroll, John Finlay and H. H. McDonald, editors; R. L. Cronin and R. J. Waters, stenographers; and R. E. Gierth, J. P. McElvany, W. F. Lynch, J. K. Brown and Harry Collins, operators.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF 'FRISCO PRIESTS.

There is great anxiety at St. Patrick's Cathedral on the part of Archbishop Farney and Mr. M. J. Lavelle, the rector, over the fate of the Catholic clergy in San Francisco.

The reports indicate that much church property has suffered with the rest of the city, by the earthquake and flames, and the Cathedral clergy are anxious to know what happened to the priests in the San Francisco churches. Rev. Father Lavelle has tried to get a message to Archbishop Farney to learn the extent of the damage to the churches there and the fate of the priests, but has been unable to reach him.
